A Chapter Full of Passion Comes to an End

After five unforgettable years the Trek Future Racing project will come to an end at the close of 2025.

What started as a bold idea became far more than a team — it became a global movement.

With riders from more than ten nations, 2 World Championship titles, 6 Continental Championships, 23 National Championship titles, a World Cup overall victory, and many iconic moments, Trek Future Racing grew into one of the most inspiring development platforms of its time. But our greatest success wasn't measured on the podium.

It was the creation of the Talent Community — over 1,500 young riders from more than 60 countries, united by the belief that true performance begins with education, health, and personal growth.

We celebrated victories, but even more, we witnessed young athletes grow — with courage, resilience, and passion.

Our mission was always to connect high-performance sport with values that last.

This chapter may close, but its spirit lives on in every athlete who was part of the journey.

The Power Behind the Podium – The People Who Made It Happen

The people behind a successful team are rarely in the spotlight. You won't find them on the podium, but they are an essential part of every victory. Each and every one of them contributed to making our mission a success – whether mechanic, physio, manager, or helping hand.

Just like our athletes on the racecourse, our crew was the true driving force – each bringing their unique strengths, dedication, and heart to the team. We were all “hungry” for success and always willing to go the extra mile, united by one thing: an unshakable passion for what we do.

Because in the end, success is never just won on the track – it's built by the people behind it.

A Community That Grows Together

1,575 athletes from 61 countries, united by one vision – to grow, learn, and perform together across disciplines like MTB, Road, and Gravity.

Over the past years, we hosted 21 Education Mondays with more than 2,840 participants, shared knowledge, and inspired each other to reach new levels.

Through 4 international Talent Camps in Austria, Germany, and Brazil, we connected riders, cultures, and stories that will last a lifetime.

Countless race reports, feedback sessions, chats, and talks with parents and coaches built the foundation of our community – a living network of passion, dedication, and shared belief in the power of development.

Because in the end, it's not the numbers that matter – it's the people behind them.

Beyond Racing – Shaping Character, Not Just Champions

Our mission has always gone far beyond performance on the racecourse.

We aimed to educate and empower young athletes both on and off the bike – helping them grow not only in strength and skill, but also in character.

Core values such as respect, empathy, and responsibility were an integral part of their personal development. Encounters in children's homes and social institutions left lasting impressions and sparked meaningful conversations – moments that reminded us that sport is not just about winning, but about understanding, compassion, and learning to see the world through different perspectives.

Because true champions are not only defined by results – but by who they become along the way.

Moments That Last – Beyond Borders, and Results

Of course, we will never forget our first World Cup victory in Albstadt or the pride of seeing our first rainbow jersey – milestones that marked unforgettable moments in our team's journey.

But beyond the sporting highlights, what truly stays in our hearts are the smiling, inspired faces from the Talent Camps and the incredible spirit of our "Support Beyond Borders" initiative at the World Championships in Crans-Montana.

One story that touched us deeply was Roger Suren from Namibia, who rode a loaned bike and still became Vice World Champion – a perfect symbol of what TREK Future Racing stood for: opportunity, courage, and heart. The gratitude of the athletes, the countless messages, and the positive feedback on our mission of sustainable athlete development will remain with us – as will all the small moments filled with emotion, whether it was the joy of victory or the shared experience of defeat.

Because in the end, these moments are what truly define a team.

Thank You for believing in us

A vision can only become reality when you find people who share it — and I am deeply grateful to have had partners who supported us over the years. Through this collaboration, true friendships have grown that go far beyond business, filled with many wonderful, joyful, and appreciative moments that I will always cherish.
